The peacemakers French as traders, unfortunately of one side's case at the expense of the other, and with fair success, even though Japan is recognized clearly as aggressor. If that is true, China is recognized clearly as the provocator, so everything is even.

It is well to realize that China's bargaining power in the Manchurian dispute is decidedly inferior to Japan's. For that reason, China should seize eagerly the opportunity presented by the League of Nations council to effect a settlement by permitting Japanese troops to stay on in Manchuria until security is assured. China's poorly equipped and badly trained soldiers are no match for the Japanese armies China can serve itself best by philosophical diplomacy at this juncture, trusting that the pressure of world opinion will guide Japan in its future actions. China, patiently unable to protect itself, cannot expect the League of Nations and the United States to protect its territory completely from invasion, much as they might wish for the other nation from such an insult.

PLAN CLASS A, B LEAGUES

SALEM BASKETBALL managera 7 p. m. Thursday night for the forbeing made by Kelley to again insure the best possible cage enter-tainment for the city's fandom.

Class A and Class B leagues will both be formed once more, under Kelley's plans, Three teams, the 1931 championship Golden Eagle, the Mullins Foremen's club and the eleven newly organized Famous Markets, backed by Kenneth Zeigler, have already implied intentions of entering the major circuit while at east a dozen teams are expected for the Class B competition.

Just how far managers will get in the organization of a Class A Ohio university and Muskingum, a blocker of no mean ability. loop depends largely on the Mullins club which has collected the city's leading cage talent into one combine. Other teams have indicated that unless the body-makers agree to split up their talent they will not compete in the circuit,

Appointment of a city league arbitration board, election of other officers and selection of an official for the "A" circuit are among other business matters scheduled at the session. As many as possible of the city's interested cage fans, players and prospective managers are requested to attend.

ZIEGLER plans to organize an independent team, for road games should plans for the major league fall to materialize. The Mullins ma also take such action while Kelley is planning to get together an ag gregation, to represent the Me gregation, to represent the Me-morial building, for home and road 22 GAMES FACE games, So, there should be some classy basketball available to fans here during the coming season.

Incidentally Kelley has arranged for another event that will be regarded as one of the outstanding events of the 1931-32 indoor sport season. The 1926-27 Salem High basketball team, an aggregation that ranks as the greatest com-bine of scholastic stars ever produced here, will be gathered together for a benefit contest to raise funds to provide a Christmas feast for the city's under-privileged chil-

Happy People

The members of our 1931 Christmas Savings Club are happy people today. They are having a foretaste of a joyous Christmas in the Christmas Savings Club check which they have received from this bank. This money has been saved to meet their Christmas expenses.

No cloud of anxiety over bills to be met early in the New Year shadows their contentment.

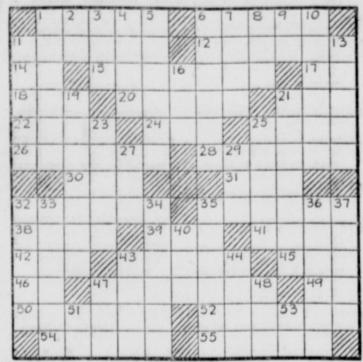

Some of these happy people have received two or more checks today. These extra checks are meant to cover January taxes, insurance premiums and other bills.

Forearmed by steady, small, weekly savings in our Christmas Savings Club, they are prepared to enjoy the holiday with a tree mind and a happy heart.

Our 1932 Christmas Savings Club is now open, and we invite you to join.

During 1931 the stupendous sum of Five Hundred and Ninty-three Millions of Dollars was accumulated by Christmas Savings Club members throughout the United States.

The amount in 1932 will be even larger because these people have found that the EASIEST and SUREST way to accumulate money for year-end needs is by means of a Christmas Club Membership.

You will need money next year at Christmas for Presents, for Taxes, for Insurance, for Fuel, for Wearing Apparel and for other things. Make sure that you will have it by joining our Christmas Savings Club now open for membership.
